APPLICATION FOR REVIEW PANEL HEARING

More Instructions for Completing this Application

At a review panel hearing, a review panel makes a decision about whether or not an involuntary patient should continue to be certified. An involuntary patient may apply for a review panel hearing by completing this form.

A patient or someone acting on behalf of the patient completes Part A of the form, and the patient or person acting on behalf of the patient then signs it. A patient may select one of the four options under the heading "Patient's Right to Legal Representation." The patient's facility/team then completes Part B of the form.

An involuntary patient may be in a designated facility (e.g., hospital) or living in the community. An involuntary patient living in the community is referred to as being on leave and must comply with treatment in the community or risk being recalled to a designated facility.

For More Information and Assistance

An involuntary patient can meet with an independent Rights Advisor. A Rights Advisor can provide information about review panel hearings and help with completing this application.

- * A case presenter is a person who is knowledgeable about the patient's history and condition and can give evidence and answer questions at a review panel hearing. A case presenter is usually the patient's treating psychiatrist, but may also be the patient's case manager, nurse, or social worker.
